Dear Wendy,

Thank you for your expertise. Your years of experience and attention to detail protected us from a situation where another realtor was leading us down a path to the potential of owning two homes. This catastrophe would have been an inexcusable and costly mistake.

We appreciate your quick response and follow thru to our many questions and in gathering pertinent information as we proceed to sell our home and buy property for new construction. Your resourcefulness has benefitted us on many occasions.

You have been consistent with your words and actions which helps us feel confident especially given the tentative climate in our tough economic times.

Your warmth coupled with professionalism makes it easy to work with you. Thank you. We look forward to our continued association and intend to refer family, friends and colleagues to you.

Sincerely,

Ronna and Skye Fisher
